Subject	RS 232 switch setting			ISSUED FOR CUSTOMER
				ACTION
				INFORMATION	X

If the operator accidentally operates the switch next to the RS 232 port this then it puts the machine into a none operating mode, which means an engineer is called, this switch is of no use generally and could be disconnected or shorted together to stop the issue occurring. I need to issue a T.I which shows the switch and explains what to do, tests will be required first.
